OUR STORY

Our founder noticed a gap in accessibility and affordability of mental health trainings for providers. Scaling Up was created to fix this problem by offering professional trainings to mental health clinicians with scholarships and group discounts.

OUR VISION

To be a training hub that offers innovative and high-quality trainings & community support for mental health professionals to learn scalable, global impact interventions that will transform their practice and build provider confidence.

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to alleviate human suffering by building a world with accessible and affordable trainings for mental health professionals specifically designed for crisis intervention, trauma care and humanitarian responses.
